The protection of nature and workers' health as well as their safety has been part of Bosch group policy since 1973. Bosch continuously develops technologies that are not only innovative but also environmental friendly. By introducing the first Lithium Cordless tools, Bosch actively contribute to the protection of the Environment. Compared with NiCd batteries, Lithium-Ion batteries contain around 70% fewer heavy metals and produce around 40% fewer CO2 emissions over a lifetime of ten years per battery pack.
